8-day class delay ends

By RILL WINTER and GEORGEANN MCGEE

Granite City public school students attended for a half-day Friday and began all-day classes today as the fall term of the 1983-84 year got off to a belated start.

Bargaining from 1 to 6 p.m. Thursday led to a tentative agreement which was approved by teachers 222 to 125 that evening. The one-year pact is to be ratified by the Board of Education tonight.

Teacher pay was "frozen" at the 1982-83 schedule. Those qualifying for incremental raises based on additional experience or additional training will receive those raises.

The 129 honorably dismissed teachers, notified in March of June 1982 dismissals, will have recall rights through the sixth day of the fall 1985 term.

A formula sets initial and second trigger points on average class size: kindergarten, 34 and 37; first through third grades, 33 and 35; fourth through sixth grades, 36 and 39; and seventh through twelfth grades, 37 and 39.

Negotiators explained that, once the lower figure has been reached for a particular grade in a building, half of such classes will be adjusted by assignment of more teachers. Flexibility is being retained because of the physical limitations of some buildings and because two classes of identical size may differ in terms of pupil learning readiness.

Once the higher enrollment average has been reached, all of the affected classes will be adjusted, based on sixth-day enrollment.

The formula is not a part of the new agreement but will be the subject of a board meeting tonight.

Teacher union President Shirley Stoll was greeted when she appeared Thursday evening at the Granite City Township Hall, where members waited, anticipating her announcement of a contract agreement.

The rousing welcome quickly faded, however, after the compromise agreement — giving some class size and recall concessions — was outlined to the group.

The union eventually approved the one-year agreement by nearly 2 to 1, following a two-hour closed-door session. During the meeting, several teachers approached a microphone to debate points of the proposal.

Later, Mrs. Stoll, president of Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 743, called the mixed reaction no surprise.

"People (members) are still greatly concerned about class size," she said. "People also realize this was a very difficult situation. And the results of the contract reflected the difficulty we (the school district) were in."

That the agreement did not receive a wider margin of support from union members was not unexpected, since the teachers' negotiators themselves were not happy with the class size settlement, according to Mrs. Stoll.

The other major contract terms included allowing laid-off teachers recall rights beyond the one year provided by state law; imposing a salary freeze while leaving intact the incremental raises given for college credits earned and additional years of teaching service; and limiting class size to some extent.

Mrs. Stoll had earlier briefly spoken to parents and other residents who had arrived, expecting to attend a school issues public forum sponsored by Local 743.

The forum had been cancelled about an hour before it was due to begin, after negotiations indicated an agreement had been reached.

Teachers during the week had combed the city, giving out flyers to announce the meeting.

Approximately 75 residents stood in small clusters outside the Granite City township building, waiting to find out if their children would be attending school the next day.

Supt. B. J. Davis late Thursday evening scheduled classes for Friday and also called back to work the secretaries, custodians, cooks, monitors and teacher aides he had laid off slightly more than a week earlier.

Those unaffected by the layoffs included school maintenance personnel who are "mothballed" six schools that will not be utilized.

School officials conceded that there was some work that could be done by those who were on layoffs, and that the laid-off non-certified employees were being "caught in the middle" of a dispute not involving them. However, administrators and board members said there was no money available to keep the supporting staffs on the payroll.

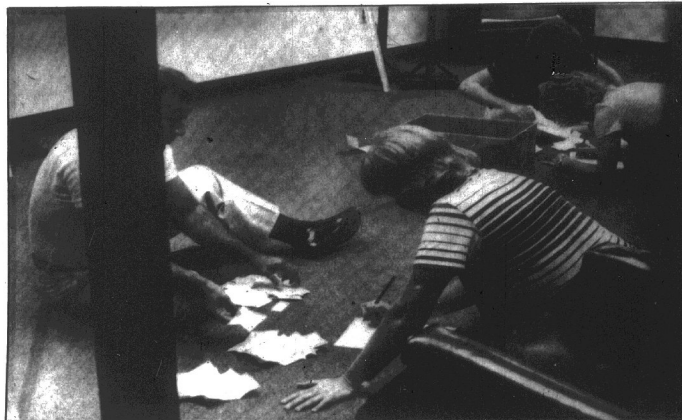

At the township building Thursday night, Mrs. Sandy Anderson, who has two children in Granite City schools, said she had hoped the forum would have given parents an opportunity "to find out what's going on." Negotiation sessions had been closed to the public.

"I would like to think it (the forum) would have had a good turnout," Charlotte Charbonnier, a teacher, said as she explained to residents why they were being turned away from the township hall.

Mrs. Stoll said during the weekend that Local 743 is pleased over the extension of recall rights from one year to about two and a half years.

She noted that the dismissed teachers can study for additional teaching

Accidents mar holiday here

Floyd Miller, 78, Granite City, was hurt seriously in a seven-car mishap at 5 a.m. Sunday on the Poplar Street Bridge. He is in Barnes Hospital with multiple injuries, including a leg fracture.

The accident was among Labor Day weekend crashes which also included a Venice accident which left a motorcyclist in serious condition and a Granite City police pursuit ended with three injured.

In the Poplar Street Bridge crash, Miller was driving west when he stopped near the exit to Interstate 70 to inspect damage after his auto had been hit by another car, which left the scene.

When Miller got out of his vehicle, he was knocked to the bridge pavement by an auto driven by Thomas Reese, 22, Florissant. Reese said his car had been hit by another hit-and-run motorist as Reese was stopping at the scene.

A St. Louis police car dispatched to the crash area was struck by a sixth auto, which hit a seventh car while the various vehicles were swerving in attempts to avoid colliding.

The sixth driver, Mohammed An-

PULLING TOGETHER. Members of United Steelworkers of America Local 4804 march the ship, S. S. Solidarity, which won first place for the best float in the annual Quad-City Labor Day parade Monday morning. More than 1,500 union members participated in the parade, the largest in recent years. U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon and Congressman Melvin Price and Paul Simon participated in the parade, in addition to union dignitaries.

Labor Day Parade attracts thousands

A group of union and government leaders wearing United Steelworkers of America caps led the third annual Labor Day parade along Madison Avenue Monday morning.

Among the group were U.S. Sen. Alan J. Dixon, U.S. Rep. Paul Simon and Buddy W. Davis, United Steelworkers of America District 34 director, who served as grand marshal of the parade, and Robert Gibson, Illinois AFL-CIO president.

Other government leaders participating in the parade were U.S. Rep. Melvin Price, State Senator Sam Vadelabene and State Rep. Sam Wolf.

Thousands lined the avenue to view the parade, the third since the annual event was revived in 1981. There had been a 25 year absence of the annual Labor Day parade in this community.

"I think it was bigger than the ones I use to see as a kid," Edwin Reiske, president of the Tri-Cities Trades and Labor Council, said. He was pleased with the turnout this year and will soon begin planning next year's parade.

Monday marked the first appearance by the new Granite City High School Band, since consolidation of the two high schools. The band won first place in the competition for marching units.

Hundreds of Quad-City area union members, their families and supporting organizations marched along the parade route in a salute to labor. The "Solidarity III" theme was evident in the parade entries and that theme was celebrated nationwide Monday.

The local march continues a theme begun by the AFL-CIO in 1981 when about 400,000 workers gathered in Washington, D.C., for the first Solidarity Day.

United Steelworkers of America Local 4804 won first place for its float, which had workers rowing a Viking-type boat, the S. S. Solidarity, showing them pulling together for a common cause.

Units from Amvets Post 51, American Legion Tri-City Post 113 and Venice-Madison Post 397 also participated. The Shrine Oriental Band and members of Musicians Local 717 entertained the crowd with their music.

The mile-long parade began at Niedringhaus and Edison avenues downtown and proceeded to Granite City High School. At the conclusion, marchers in the parade participated in the annual tug-of-war contests at Bellemore Village Shopping Center.

Trophies were awarded to the first-place winners judged during the parade.

THE CALYPSO HEADS NORTH. The research vessel of sea explorer Jacques Cousteau heads up the Mississippi River to St. Paul-Minneapolis from St. Louis via Locks and Dam 27 here Friday morning. About 25 people viewed the converted minesweeper going through the locks after some waited more than three hours to see it. Neither Cousteau, nor his son, Jean-Michel, were on board when the Calypso locked through. The crew is filming a documentary on the Mississippi River.

Y offers after school care

The Tri-City Area YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., is offering an after-school child care program that features bus transportation from some schools to the Y.

The program also is offering some limited free sessions at the beginning of the school year as an introductory offer to area parents. The gymnastics and swim program is open to youths ages 5 to 11. The program will continue throughout the school year and only on the days school is in session.

Instructor Natalie Buster will conduct health games from 3:20 to 4:45 p.m., recreational swimming from 4:45 to 5:30 p.m. and group activities from 5:30 to 6 p.m. Parents will be expected to pick up their children at the Y by 6 p.m.

Participants must register prior to joining the program. A maximum of 20 children will be enrolled. Two free introductory sessions per participant will be offered on a first-come, first-served basis and will only be given at the beginning of the school year. The regular daily cost of the program will be $2 for YMCA members and $3 for others. Each additional family member attending will be charged half price.

The bus pickup schedule is: Logan School, 2:45 p.m.; Niedringhaus School, 2:55 p.m.; Frohardt School, 3 p.m.; Parkview School, 3:05 p.m.; Wilson School, 3:10 p.m.; and Webster School, 3:15 p.m.

Those who do not require transportation will be charged $1 less per session.

Chamber women's auction Sept. 15

Handmade crafts, baked goods, and unusual items will be sold at the Tri-Cities Area Women's Chamber of Commerce dinner and auction on Sept. 15 at the Holiday Inn in Edwardsville. Beginning with cocktails at 5:30 p.m., the evening will include dinner at 6:30 p.m., followed by the auction. Some items will be sold at silent auction, while some will be auctioned by a "surprise auctioneer."

The event is open to the public, and reservations must be made by noon on Sept. 12.

DUI IS CHARGED

Mitchell carnival opens Friday

The 24th Annual Fall Festival sponsored by the Mitchell Athletic Association opens Friday at the athletic fields along Greenway Drive.

A carnival and live entertainment will be among the daily attractions until the festival concludes Sunday evening.

The rides, game and refreshment booths will be open to the public beginning 6 p.m. Friday. The opening night's entertainment will be the Joey James Orchestra.

On Saturday, the carnival will offer rides at reduced prices from 2 to 5 p.m. At 6 p.m., the Checker Board Squares will present a square dancing show.

The Rainbow Express Band, composed of women musicians, will play four shows, beginning at 8 p.m. Saturday.

On Sunday, trophies will be awarded for boys' baseball and girls' softball. At 2 p.m., the Jerry Green Dance Studio students will present a performance.

Members of the Youth School of Baton and Dance will give a show at 3 p.m.

Continuing the Sunday lineup will be four performances by the Carlson Show Band, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The band features country rock.

Ride tickets may be purchased in advance at reduced prices from: Tacole, 3900 Nameoki Road and E.L. Quick Shop, West Chain of Rocks and Maryville roads.

Tickets also may be purchased at Donaldson's Cafe and Gene's Barber Shop, both in Mitchell.

Proceeds from the festival will be used to develop a sport field complex behind Mitchell School.

The association sponsors Khoury League teams, basketball and soccer teams.

TRIES TO HIT AUTO
A motorist in an orange auto twice tried to strike the car of Patty Hildebrand, 1713 Garfield Ave., as she drove along Edwardsville Road in Granite City last week.

The state's attorney is displeased that the eight judges in Madison County did not give him an opportunity to answer the Aug. 19 investigation request made by Amiel Cueto of Caseyville.

Weber said he plans to continue devoting full-time to his duties as prosecutor, leaving his defense mainly in the hands of the East Alton attorneys.

The state's attorney is suing Cueto for libel.

Weber defenders named in special investigation

State's Attorney Don W. Weber has chosen law partners Donald E. Groshong and Edward G. Moorman of East Alton to represent him in the investigation of Weber by a special prosecutor, Paul Verticchio.

Weber also has asked Chief Circuit Judge A.A. Maloesian to formally appoint Groshong and Moorman. In the meantime, they have proceeded with preliminary tasks.

The investigation of allegations against the state's attorney, made by a St. Clair County lawyer, was ordered by the circuit judges, who chose Verticchio for the assignment.

Weber said the right to appoint defense counsel is given in state laws governing investigations by court-appointed special prosecutors.

Groshong is the defense attorney in the Susan Davidson murder case, but a special prosecutor was appointed previously to handle that case because Weber had worked briefly for a law firm involved in the defense. Mrs. Davidson is charged in the 1979 killing of her husband, Stephen Davidson of Godfrey.

Weber said Friday that special prosecutors could be appointed in the future to handle cases defended by Groshong and Moorman. Although this could cause some procedural problems for the courts, the situation was created by the judges when they decided to have Weber investigated, Weber commented.

Jarvis area multiplier is challenged

The size of property tax multipliers in several townships in Madison County is being questioned by residents and officials there.

One Jarvis Township resident, Marvin France, a representative of the Taxpayers Survival Association, has called for a state Senate investigation into the assignment of multipliers by the Madison County Board of Review and Supervisor of Assessments James Barton.

France has asked Sen. Frank Watson and two other members of the legislature to launch a probe. As a result of that request, Watson has suggested that an unofficial review be conducted at the local level.

Multipliers are assigned to raise assessment levels to the 33 1/3 percent of market value mandated by state law.

The state gives Madison County a multiplier. The county, in turn, assigns township multipliers to equalize assessments among the various townships.

The Jarvis Township multiplier was 15.9 percent in 1980, 11.7 percent in 1981 and 16.7 percent in 1982.

The level of assessments for those three years was 33.12 percent based on information France says he confirmed with the Illinois Department of Revenue.

France and others in Jarvis Township, including Assessor Lucille Schmalz, maintain that the multipliers needed only to be 4 percent to raise the assessment level to one-third of value.

What actually happened, with the much larger multipliers, they maintain, is that the assessments have been more than 35 percent in the three-year period. Actual value changes from year to year with inflation.

Barton has long maintained that the multiplier system has problems, mainly because the assessment level is the average of three years.

Also seeking three four-year terms are Kelly Hogan, Donald Gargac and Kenneth Davis.

A lottery will be held at 4:30 p.m. Sept. 12 at the board office to determine ballot positions.

Board members whose terms continue until 1985 are Thomas Miosky and Monroe Worthen.

Legislation toughens drunk driving penalties

Legislation that toughens penalties for drunk driving convictions in Illinois and tightens procedures used to keep track of motorists convicted of violating state drunk driving laws was signed Thursday by Governor James R. Thompson.

"In the last several years we've gotten tougher on motorists who abuse the privilege of a driver's license by drinking and driving, a deadly combination that threatens the lives of everyone who uses our roads," the governor said at a news conference where he signed five bills backed by Secretary of State Jim Edgar.

"These are important bills because they could save lives by keeping drunk drivers from behind the wheel and give the state a better way to monitor drivers who have been sentenced to court supervision from drunk driving arrests," he said.

Edgar, who co-authored the measures with the Motor Vehicle Laws Commission headed by Lou Lowder, said the bills provide "additional tools that will help save even more lives and signal again to those who drink and drive that we won't permit the tragedies caused by drunk driving to continue."

"With these laws, we're getting tougher on those repeat drunk drivers and those persons who continue to drive after they've lost their driver's license for drunk driving, reckless homicide or some other serious traffic offense."

The package of legislation signed by Thompson included:

—A bill that provides a minimum seven-day jail term or 30 days of community service for persons convicted of driving after having their license suspended or revoked for driving under the influence (DUI), leaving the scene of a fatal or personal injury accident or reckless homicide.

—Senate Bill 125, a measure that calls for at least a 48-hour jail sentence or 10 days of community service for repeat DUI violations within five years of a previous conviction. The bill was approved unanimously by the General Assembly.

—Requiring that court supervision sentences for DUI arrests be reported to the secretary of state. Previously, prosecutors and judges may not have been able to obtain a complete list of court action when a repeat offender appears before the court, a problem that will be corrected by House Bill 817.

—Senate Bill 173, which prohibits passengers in any motor vehicle from transporting or possessing alcoholic beverages, except if they're in their original container and the seal is unbroken. Current law prohibits only the driver from transporting or possessing liquor in a motor vehicle. Under the bill, which was sponsored by Sen. San Vadalabene of Edwardsville and Representative Monroe Plim of Cahokia, passengers of chartered buses and motor homes are exempt from the new law.

—A bill that limits the number of times court supervision can be used for DUI offenders. Under Senate Bill 175, court supervision can be used only one time in a five-year period for persons charged with violating DUI laws. Drunk drivers have been able to avoid losing their licenses by being repeatedly sentenced to court supervision. Each bill takes effect January 1, 1984.

Problems for EOC seem to be mounting

By PAIGE ST. JOHN

No one is saying these are the best of times at the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission office.

Consider that: —The director of the county EOC is no longer taking phone calls from the press (secretaries for the last week have been saying he "has just stepped out" or "is out of town.")

—140 EOC employees went without paychecks Aug. 25 because of a $38,000 "cash flow crisis."

All 291 homes ever weatherized by the EOC have to be checked and some redone.

The state Department of Commerce and Community Affairs is auditing all DCCA-funded EOC programs for financial mismanagement.

—Rumors are circulating in the EOC that the DCCA has asked for EOC director Ruben Williams' resignation although DCCA sources say this is untrue.

—Just a few days before the DCCA audit began last spring, EOC weatherization director Mary Damron quit and moved to Georgia.

The causes of the EOC's troubles won't be made public for several weeks, when the state EOC audits are made public.

In the meantime, EOC financial director Gene Morelli said EOC workers were paid Friday.

He said the EOC is "crossing fingers" that the agency will have enough cash to meet the next payroll. EOC workers are normally paid every two weeks.

Morelli said he is working with Williams on a proposal to cut back employee hours until the cash flow crisis is over.

DCCA Home Energy assistance program and weatherization program Manager Wayne Curtis said the first of the preliminary EOC audit reports will be completed this week. The EOC will then be given a chance to respond before the audit is made public.

Curtis and other DCCA officials met last Wednesday with Williams in Peoria, at the annual meeting of the Association of Community Action Agencies. Curtis said beforehand that no specific talks were planned.

Meanwhile, the cause for the DCCA audits, incomplete and poor-quality weatherization work, is being repaired. The EOC, under the DCCA's direction, is checking all 291 homes weatherized by the EOC and finishing or repairing that work.

"That's our main thing right now," Curtis said.

"That's been our big beef. That's why we have someone down there (in the EOC offices). That's why we set up a special fund for the weatherization repairs. (To ensure the DCCA money was not used in other programs.)"

That's why we ensured that the weatherization workers got paid on Friday."

Curtis said the EOC's inability to make payroll Aug. 25 was "another indication" the agency has serious management problems in other areas besides the weatherization program.

The first indication came two months ago, when the DCCA learned the EOC has not paid a utility company since January for people under the home energy assistance program, even though the DCCA had given the EOC that money long ago.

At that time, the DCCA expanded the audit of the weatherization program to include all DCCA-funded programs.

While Curtis would not say what the audits are turning up, he did comment on the EOC's weatherization program problems.

"Our problem there is not with the union that did the work," Curtis said. "It's with the way the workers were supervised, the way the program was managed."

He said some home weatherization work was incomplete, while in other homes, it was done poorly. Curtis blamed the EOC staff for not adequately supervising the union workers or organizing them properly, and for approving work unfinished.

"They said homes were complete that were not complete," Curtis said.

Curtis said the DCCA audit began just before EOC weatherization director Mary Damron resigned. He

Debt harms students, teachers

All welcome the end of the dispute that delayed students' classes from Aug. 23 to Sept. 2. If there was a villain, it was the debt that plagues South District Nine.

There is an old saying that a lot could be accomplished if no one worried about who got the credit. Perhaps the school delay could have been avoided or reduced if nobody had challenged motives.

Teachers sincerely wanted a chance to do the best possible job in the classroom. They did not want so many students that they might be thwarted in properly enlightening and inspiring the youngsters. It is also a fact that class size has a direct effect on the number of teaching jobs available. But this does not negate anyone's right and duty to urge avoidance of overcrowding.

Administrators and board members truly wanted to get the schools open. They desired high staff morale and effective instruction. It is also a fact that operating fewer buildings and fewer rooms cuts costs. But cost concern is not evil, even if there may be some correlation between the level of spending and the level of educational quality.

Citizens are both taxpayers and parents. They desire efficiency and good schools. Everyone wants the best; when it comes to their children, money is not people's chief concern. The public did want the dispute settled promptly, but this did not mean the public had an ulterior motive. Delay of the term has an unsettling effect on nearly everyone.

If fault is not allocated, motivation is not questioned, and settlement credit is shared by all, would anyone think it is pertinent that:

1. San Jose schools were allowed bankruptcy last week. To avoid "collapse of the school system," a federal judge authorized deleting the past two years' 1981-82 wages are to be paid while a new amount is negotiated. This recession-period "sign of the times" seems unfair to teachers and other staff members.

2. Illinois' School Finance Project told the state board Thursday that a ban is needed on budgets that exceed revenue by 10 percent. Borrowing of taxes two years ahead should be restricted, the advisory panel added.

3. Accelerated billing ought to be used to provide initial real estate taxes in the first quarter of the calendar year, with distribution continuing each quarter, the panel said. It also urged the state board to warn administrators, boards and citizens if districts approach "severe financial problems."

4. Some taxpayers and parents worried last week that if mandatory outdoor arbitration goes into effect in Illinois, school services and spending in effect would be taken out of local officials' and employees' hands.

As to the continuing big debt, whose fault is it that Granite City schools have far more "red ink" than is advisable? Citizens? School employees? Board members?

We don't fully know and, in some ways, it doesn't matter. The past cannot be altered, and fault and motivation and credit are important mainly in terms of what is going to happen in the future.

All who have a stake, financial and otherwise, in this community, in the quality of its services, in its desire not to become bankrupt, may be tempted to say to all parties: "It is sinful to mortgage everyone's future by spending money we do not have to an unreasonable degree; avoid such sin."

There were partisans, but controversies like the one just ended obviously are not as simple as choosing up sides and being "for" or "against" something.

Those who want badly to provide generous pay and big staffs are hampered badly by debt and interest payments that, by law, take precedence over the needs of students and educators.

We voice hearty boos and hisses for the villain, debt, that is trying to shackle District Nine's future.

Scrap mandatory auto testing

We have said it before and we'll say it again. Mandatory auto emission testing is not going to make enough of a difference in air quality in Madison County to be worth the many thousands of dollars it will cost motorists.

Despite strong opposition to emission and safety testing, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency just keeps marching along telling us how to be good to ourselves, even if we can't afford it.

They carry a hammer with an ironic twist. If Madison County and five other Illinois counties do not impose inspection-maintenance programs, the feds will cut off federal money, including grants for air pollution control programs in the Chicago and East St. Louis areas. Now that makes a lot of sense!

We have seen auto inspection programs in other states. New cars fresh off the showroom floor were flunking the tests. Some passed only by slipping a few bucks to the inspectors. The opportunities for misuse are tremendous.

EPA once estimated inspections would cost about $13 per car each year. Repairs to bring the average car into compliance are estimated at $30.35. One estimate is that the residents of the six counties could split a $500 million price tag each year.

Older cars, the only vehicles many unemployed and poverty-ridden families can afford, run the greatest risk of needing the most work to bring their cars into compliance. They certainly can't afford it. We think the USEPA should stop all the work deciding which sanctions should be imposed if we don't have vehicle testing and the agency should, instead, put its efforts into working with heavier-polluting industries to clean up the air.

It's about time this one federal agency read the Constitution. The PEOPLE are still supposed to have something to say about how they spend their money.

Time to fix up the GC City Hall

We were happy to hear about the $517,878 grant awarded to Madison county to renovate the second floor of the county courthouse and a 15,000-square-foot building which formerly housed Sears and was donated to the county.

Now we hope someone will apply for a grant or donate money to renovate the first floor of the basement of the Granite City Hall.

One judge recently commented that he feels sorry for the judge in the first floor courtroom of GC City Hall (currently Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand). He has no chambers on the first floor and, more important, he has no privacy. He must go to the second floor for a private office and, as soon as he leaves, someone calls him to come back to the first floor to conduct business. "It's the worst courtroom set-up in the whole county," the other judge stated.

The county courthouse is a great old building that has undergone numerous renovations in recent years. The city hall is a grand old building that has had little work done in recent years. It has a basement, but not a remodeling, but of a good cleaning. Fortunately, it now has a full-time custodian and is improving.

We know the city council is seeking funds to remodel the former jail area in the basement for the comptroller and make more room for expansion of the court on the main floor. However, the funds are short.

Perhaps the city, or the county, or the state, or someone could put in a grant application or come up with funds to improve and open up some space in the city hall. It would be an asset to the entire city.

News Notes

Gov. James Thompson signed five new labor laws on Labor Day but has not yet acted on a bill authorizing collective bargaining by governmental employees.

The Labor Day telethon for funds to fight muscular dystrophy raised $71,732 in this metropolitan area and $30,091,627 nationally.

A three-judge federal appeals court in Chicago last week rejected Don Benny Anderson's claim of insufficient evidence to convict him of conspiring and attempting to stop Dr. Hector Zevallos from performing abortions at a clinic in Granite City.

Thomas G. Miesky, Granite City Steel employment supervisor, has begun his new duties as grant manager of human resources at another National Steel Corp. subsidiary, Butte-McCaw Tube Co., St. Louis County.

Sentencing of Ronald Martin, 29, Caseyville, in the 1981 diamond robbery followed a bench trial before Associate Judge Edward Ferguson.

SCOREBOARD

Thieves took 81 light bulbs and six electronic panels from the centerfield scoreboard of a ball diamond at Worthen Park, park officials reported Thursday.

Says a burglary broke her parents' hearts

To the Editor,
Someone in Granite City has knowledge of the burglary of the home of my parents, Mr. & Mrs. Thomas King, 2575 North St. You know, burglary notices seem so mundane; a common, ordinary, everyday occurrence. But when it happens to someone you love, emotions are aroused. It isn't so much the monetary value of the items stolen, although it is sad to know how hard my folks have worked all their lives, and now in their sunset years, to lose to a thief the hard-earned possessions that bring pleasure to them. It was hard to hear my mother in tears because the golden butterfly necklace that was my father's gift to her on their 40th wedding anniversary was taken. That 40th wedding anniversary will never return and the gift that marked the occasion meant something to her heart, more than to her purse. My father's gold watch had been a Christmas gift from his three daughters, all of whom live 2,000 miles away. We get to see each other once a year, during the holidays. Naturally, we treasure that small period of time together and try to make it as special and memorable as possible. Now, a treasured memento of our Christmas is in the hands of someone to whom it could have no possible meaning.

Two diamonds left to my parents by a long deceased uncle who had lived with our family had been set each a ring for Dad. Uncle Gene's diamonds were special to us because they had belonged to a cantankerous old man who delighted us with stories of his past as chief of Granite City Fire Department and left behind his worldly goods to the nephew who had cared enough to take the old man into his home and the nephew's wife who tenderly cared for him, in spite of his gruffness. All of us loved Uncle Gene and his two diamonds belonged in the family. Now a stranger who knows nothing about uncle, and cares less, has the two diamonds.

The gold watch that was awarded to Uncle Gene when he retired from the Fire Department had been lovingly dismantled and mounted on velvet, along with his belt buckle, "E.K.", and framed for a family memento. Even this was taken.

My Dad is nearing retirement. He has worked over 50 years, day in and day out, in Granite City heat and cold, in the winters of blizzard and ice-covered trees. He doesn't deserve to have his home invaded and raped by the uncaring, and framed for a family memento. Even this was taken.

My mother has raised a family, cared for the elderly out of the kindness of her heart. She troops the neighborhood kids to see "Annie" and gives cookies and hugs to the young ones, as she was denied the pleasure of watching her only grandchild grow up because he lived in California. To have the gifts from her husband and children over the years snatched away by thieves in the night is such a shame, there simply aren't words to express the sickened feeling I had.

One day, the burglars will be old. I wonder if they will feel they put in a good, honest day's work for what they will have accumulated by then? I wonder how they will feel when an unfeeling intruder disrespects where they live and call "home."

"Home" represents a certain inviolable sanctuary; place of safety, where one can call the place one's own. To discover that someone has invaded, violated, snooped and plundered is truly a heartbreaking experience.

Hearings for dogfight spectators

Randall Viessman of Mitchell, Ricky Wallace of Granite City and Cornelio Ybarra Jr. of Pontoon Beach are among the Illinoisans arrested by state troopers at a makeshift dogfight arena Aug. 27 ten miles north of Greenville.

Sixty-seven persons were charged with attending an animal fight, a misdemeanor. Hearings are set for Sept. 19 in the Bond County Circuit Court.

Pit bull terriers were confiscated along with drugs used to treat the dogs. Raymond Carter, 35, of Sorento was charged with possessing a controlled substance.

Site of the raid was a 30-acre farm. An unmarked livestock trailer was used to transport to the area more than 40 state and county law enforcement officers and three representatives of the Humane Society of the United States.

IBM chairman to address the REGA

A Missouri native who now heads one of the world's most successful high-technology corporations will be the speaker at a St. Louis Town Hall Forum program at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers, Thursday.

John R. Opel, chairman and chief executive officer of International Business Machines Corp., was born in Kansas City and grew up in Jefferson City. He will speak at a luncheon meeting sponsored by the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association. Tickets to the event are $15 and are available from the REGA, 10 Broadway, St. Louis, Mo. 63102. The forum is open to the public.

A graduate of Westminster College in Fulton, Opel became chairman of the board of IBM last February. He retained the title of chief executive officer, a post to which he was elected in 1981. He was featured on the cover of "Time" magazine last month.

He began his career with IBM as a sales representative in Jefferson City in 1949, holding positions of increasing responsibility in subsequent years. He was elected president of the corporation in 1974. IBM manufactures a wide range of office equipment. It was the sixth largest manufacturer in the country in 1982 and the most profitable industrial company in the U.S.

wary, 28, Florissant, was arrested for damaging city property.

Bridge traffic was tied up for 45 minutes.

In another accident, motorcyclist Gary Lemons, 27, of 4365 Highway 162, was in serious condition today following an accident early Saturday morning.

A Venice police official said the one-vehicle accident, involving a 1973 Harley-Davidson motorcycle, occurred at Route 3 and Broadway in Venice about 5:45 a.m. Saturday.

Officers were at first uncertain of the details, since Lemons was unable to answer questions.

The motorcyclist apparently lost control of his bike and skidded into a utility pole.

Lemons was taken by Campbell Ambulance to the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

According to a spokesman for Firmin Desloge Monday evening, Lemons was listed in serious condition and was being treated for fractures, among other injuries.

Three people were hurt early today when the auto believed stolen was being pursued by police and crashed into another car. An investigation is continuing.

Granite City police are expected to seek felony warrants against a 31-year-old Granite City man allegedly involved in a burglary at 12:30 a.m. today at Mathews Chevrolet, Niedringhaus and Madison avenues, from where a 1983 auto also was stolen.

Units from the Madison Police Department and a sheriff's deputy and his K-9 dog assisted in searching the building after a window was found broken in the Mathews' service department.

The vehicle allegedly taken from the Chevrolet dealership was being pursued by officers when the driver became involved in an accident at East 24th Street and Nameoki Road and three persons in the second auto were injured, reports state.

In addition to the application for felony warrants through the Madison County state's attorney's office, the fleeing driver was charged with reckless conduct and driving at a speed to avoid an accident, not having a valid driver's license, reckless driving, disobeying a traffic control device, fleeing and attempt to elude police officers and disobeying a traffic control device (stop sign).

The 1983 auto driven by the suspect apparently turned south onto Nameoki Road from East 24th Street and went out of control.

The vehicle crossed the center line and entered the northbound lanes, striking a 1974 Plymouth owned by Cindy J. Murphy, 18, of the 1200 block of Meridian Avenue, which was traveling north.

Mrs. Murphy and two passengers in her auto, Michael R. Murphy, 23, of the 1200 block of Meridian and Keith Roberts, 18, of the 3000 block of East 23rd Street, sustained injuries and were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

At Mathews, desk drawers had been rummaged and some items were moved around. It was not immediately determined if other items were missing.

The vehicle stolen from Mathews belongs to a resident of Creve Coeur, Mo., reports indicate.

70 charges in drug crackdown

David Dial, 30, of Mitchell was charged with delivery of a controlled substance as part of a new drug crackdown last week in Madison County.

Madison County State's Attorney Don W. Weber said 41 persons were named in 70 suppressed indictments returned Aug. 25 by a Circuit Court grand jury.

The charges stemmed from investigations by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois, in connection with the state's attorney, deputies and police. City officers and MEGS agents began arresting those charged early last week and continued the arrest series for several days.

Many of the offenses being alleged occurred in March and April. Numerous defendants live in the Edwardsville and Alton areas.

At Edwardsville, the police chief said the targets were three locations "of common suspicion and frequent complaint." He referred to the area of Vanzo's Tap Room, the National Food parking lot and Springers Woods Park.

Weber said he is concerned by an increase in the availability of LSD on streets in the county. He commented:

"We feel that our drug information program in the schools and the stepped-up pressure on persons selling drugs have had an impact. The price of marijuana has gone up. But that has made the price of LSD more competitive."

Extension offers sewing sessions

Easy to do and shortcut contemporary sewing techniques will be featured in a 2 1/2-hour program, "Secrets of a Successful Blazer," Thursday at 1 and 7:30 p.m. (same program presented twice) at First Baptist Church, 534 St. Louis St. (Route 157) in Edwardsville.

Phyllis Eifler, a Denver home economist who has taught the class more than 100 groups in the midwest, will be the instructor. She bases the class "on the nationally acclaimed Palmer and Pletsch '8-Hour Blazer' techniques. Sewing methods will include patch pockets, welt pockets, speed lapping, mini and maxi shoulder shapes, quick lining and the unique eight-point lapel.

Mrs. Eifler believes that most homemakers do not press enough, so she will feature money-saving pressing equipment easily made at home using a toilet paper roll, a child's pant leg, a paint roller and a worn washcloth.

Demonstrations on fitting, fusing, stitching and pressing will be given to assure guilt-free tailoring of wovens and knits. The $12 fee includes the Palmer-Pletsch book, "Easy, Easier, Easiest Tailoring."

Printed directions for the eight-point lapel also will be distributed and questions will be answered. Pre-registration is preferred by calling 1-656-8400.

The class is sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, Box 427, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025.

specialty qualifications in the interim, improving their prospects when competing for future District Nine job openings between now and September 1985.

They can vie only for teaching vacancies. Teachers not dismissed now or in the future cannot be "bumped" by those on dismissal.

Faculty members who are dismissed in March 1984 or March 1985 will be considered for recall along with the 129 from 1983, on the basis of seniority in the district, their state-certified qualifications and the type of position being filled.

Mrs. Stoll added that the teachers feel the outcome of the talks was greatly affected by the financial condition of the school system.

"We do not want to put the district farther in debt," she told the Press-Record.

Most of the negative votes were attributed to the class size issue.

Supt. Davis said the district always adjusts any overcrowding, and that the state law and the school board's policy both give preference to dismissed teachers on the basis of seniority.

He said there are no plans to extend the closing date of school next spring, but that use of emergency days (in the eight-day delay of the fall term) will leave less flexibility in bad weather.

The calendar originally allowed for six "snow days."

Estimates vary considerably on the number of teachers who will be recalled when the six-day enrollment is evaluated next week.

Negotiations about the district stressed the view that emphasis needs to be placed on the actual number of children reporting to school, not on statistical projections from past surveys.

Local 743 ultimately agreed on the six-day tally but initially sought a $400,000 fund or a signed memorandum, as a counterweight to the prevailing legal opinion that only the board can decide on hiring and staff size.

Russell Chappell, chairman of the teachers' negotiating team, cited the extension of recall rights as an achievement in the new agreement.

Acknowledging dissent by some of the local members, he pointed to the decisive margin in the ratification vote as an indication of general satisfaction.

Ben Schutzenhofer, first vice-president, described the teachers as negotiating about uncertain economic circumstances. "They understand the financial difficulty," he said.

FIVE VIOLATIONS

CITED FOR TRAFFIC

William Richardson, 54, Mulberry Grove, Ill., was charged with five counts of traffic violations by Granite City police officers at 11:40 p.m. Friday after Richardson was involved in a five-car accident at Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road.

He allegedly ran through the light at that intersection, hitting a vehicle driven by Steve Copeland, Pontoon Beach, and then went on to hit three cars parked at Charlie's Restaurant.

Richardson was charged with driving under the influence of liquor, illegal transportation of liquor, disobeying a traffic signal, having no valid license and having defective brakes.

He was released on $302 bail.

Name financial institutions for state-backed mortgages

Governor James R. Thompson said Wednesday that the Illinois Housing Development Authority (IHDA) has named 36 Illinois banks that will participate in IHDA's $68.5 million "Affordable Mortgage Program," a below-market-rate aimed at first-time home buyers.

"This program offers potential home buyers from around the state the opportunity to purchase a home that high interest rates have kept them from owning," the governor said.

"For the second time in a year, a state-run program will use the resources of the bond market, recruit banks and other lending institutions and help hundreds of Illinois citizens move into an affordable home," he said.

Earlier this month IHDA sold $68.5 million in tax-exempt bonds to a group of several underwriters. Those funds will be used to their 10.55%, 30-year mortgage loans to qualified buyers of single-family homes, condominiums and small, owner-occupied buildings of up to four apartments.

The three dozen banks named by IHDA to handle the mortgages will make loans to qualified families earning up to $30,300 a year.

Under the program's guidelines, a sales price ceiling for each type of housing will vary in different parts of the state.

Up to 1,300 homes and apartments will be financed under the program, Thompson said.

COUPLES ENRICHMENT PROGRAM WILL START
The Rev. Leo Figge, director of the Marriage and Family Program at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, will conduct a couples' enrichment program. The four-session program will meet on Tuesdays, Sept. 13 and 27 and Oct. 11 and 25 at 7 p.m. in the Dr. Tom Dooley Center at the shrine, 950 W. Route 15.

The enrichment program is for any married couple interested in making the relationship better, regardless of the length of time married. Each 2 1/2 to 3 hour workshop will deal with a specific topic.

Sacred Heart: A baseball pioneer in Granite City

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

Granite City and its immediate neighbors have long had a rich and brilliant history of baseball players on the Little League, grade school, American Legion, high school and amateur and semi-pro and professional levels.

While researching another Old Time story recently, the question of when the first baseball team was organized locally came up. No one seems to know for sure. However, the role of the storied and famous baseball teams fielded by the Sacred Heart Catholic Church here in Granite City, along with that of the Fishman Men's Clothing Store nine, was the most frequently mentioned.

In an attempt to nail down an answer to the question, it appears the 1933 Sacred Heart team fielded under tutelage of the church's builder in 1924 and beloved pastor, Father (later Monsignor) Michael Costello, who was a friend of not only Catholics but all races, and religious and some who had never set foot in a church.

Father Mike loved sports and with a special regard for baseball. He, along with the late Walter Reese, were all-out devotees of duck and goose shootings and, late each Fall, could be found in the rice fields of Arkansas, where those beautiful birds could always be found in profusion in the Fall of the year.

The Sacred Heart baseball team began its career playing in the old Parochial League (for two years) and then switched over to Vernon Lucas (now deceased, who lived in Collinsville) Illinois Junior City League around 1935 or thereabouts.

On that 1933 Sacred Heart squad were: Ollie Roderick, an outfielder; Larry Cusnelli, who could have played anywhere needed; Larry Pashea, one of two outstanding right-handed hurlers on the squad; Bob Goughan, deceased, but a long-time sideman in Granite City and Roderick's best man; Albert Batson, an outfielder; and Lou Kahn, former coach in the pros, and another in a long line of brilliant catchers developed in this area and a coach for Harry (the Hat) Walker in the Major Leagues.

Then at first base, there was Adolph Stanek, a fancy fielding and good-hitting first baseman; manager of the 33 aggregation was Sid Winters, now deceased but who was a bricklayer at Granite City Steel; another outfielder, now living in Chicago, was a ball-hawking outfielder.

The 1933 Hearts had two main hurlers, both right-handers; the already mentioned Pashea and Paul Hawk. Hawk's main pitch was a blazing fast ball, while Hresko's main reliance was on his curve ball and a very deceptive change-up. Hawk is now retired from Granite City Steel.

Playing the hot corner for the "33 Hearts was Andy Lucido, who ran a Dairy Queen store down at Belleville, playing right alongside Andy was his brother, Bill, at shortstop, now a realtor in San Diego, Calif.; Paul Mink, now deceased, was a utility infielder.

One of the most colorful members of that early squad was former businessman, Owen Day, who managed a local lumber company. He was called "Race Horse Day" by his teammates and local fans.

An important member of that first team was "Battling Bat Boy," Nellie Hagnauer, now chairman of the Madison County Board of Commissioners. Nellie went on to become one of the area's (and Illinois Hall of Famer in softball) best softball and hardball pitchers.

In researching for this story, a yellowed clipping mentioned a upcoming Sunday (July 14, 1946) game telling of a championship game between the Hearts and Fishman Men. On the mound for the Hearts, says the story "will be Hagnauer. Backing him in the field will be Paul Hawk, Ed Hoff, Bill Hilmer, Charley Parker, Charley Brisky, Larry Hoff and Bill Schmidt.

Back there in those dreary and poverty-stricken Depression Days, how did the ball clubs manage to take care of the playing uniforms, but most of the rest of the game's expenses were met by "passing the hat" during the games. "Kahn's dad was the one who did that job for us," said Ollie Roderick.

Who were the Hearts' best batters on that first team? A consensus of about eight men who either played on the team or were devoted followers of the team was: Batson, Kahn and Stanek. Members of the Parochial League in

IN THE BEGINNING there were the members of the 1933 Sacred Heart baseball team. Members of that team include (kneeling from left) Ollie Roderick; Rev. Michael Costello, and Larry Cusnelli. In the second row were Bob Goughan, Lou Kahn, Manager Sid Winters, Paul Hawk, Bill Lucido and Owen Day. In the back row were Larry Pashea, Albert Batson, Adolph Stanek, Steve Hresko, Andy Lucido and Paul Mink. Bat boy Nelson Hagnauer was not present for the photo session.

'33: Glen Carbon, Highland, Edwardsville, Troy, Collinsville, Mt. Olive, Maryville and, of course, Granite City.

Other means of financing the league games were by selling ads in score cards and most popular, at Sacred Heart, at least, was their famous Minister Shows put on in the Church's basement.

Sacred Heart's home diamond was, of course, right behind the church.

The saddest development brought to light in researching for this little opus was the revelation that the many trophies won by all the different kinds of athletic teams at Sacred Heart have, mysteriously, been lost.

It seems, that after Father Mike died, the new pastor Reverend Enright, who was not as sport minded, turned thumbs down on sponsored team sports at Sacred Heart and the trophies were sadly lost.

Does anyone know where they may now be stored. If so, call me, Al Barnes, 452-0433, or write: Al Barnes, 2520 State Street, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Already a long-time member of Sacred Heart, Jim Holland, has been of great value in my attempt to "track down" the whereabouts of the trophies.

Jayvee kickers annihilate Tigers 5-0

Setting a performance for their varsity counterparts to follow, the Granite City High School junior varsity soccer team annihilated Edwardsville 5-0 Friday in its season debut.

After a scoreless first quarter, Dave DeToussie broke the ice as he took a shot from sophomore Brett Scrum in the opening seconds of the second quarter to put the Warriors ahead 1-0. DeToussie's goal came at the 15:22 mark.

Five minutes later, at 19:11, Scrum made it 2-0 as his solo effort zipped past Edwardsville's defense. Granite City continued to bombard the Tiger goal area in the second quarter as Todd Adamitis pushed in a debut 3-0, shutting out the Tigers. Incidentally, Grote scored the Warriors third, and final, goal of the game in the fourth quarter. The Warriors took to the field again this evening as Alton-Marquette visits The Gounille.

head shot from Rob Lombardi's corner kick for Granite City's third goal. After an uneventful third quarter, Granite City again went on a scoring spree.

At 45:29, less than 30 seconds into the fourth quarter, Joe Gray put Granite City ahead 4-0 on an unassisted shot that eluded Edwardsville's goalkeeper. The final Warrior goal came at the 50:54 mark as Bruce Windfield pushed in a goal in front of a congested Tiger goal.

Afterwards, Coach Dave Ames displayed joy with his team's performance, but too, he said there were things which needed to be improved. "I thought they played well for their first game, but we still need to penetrate and get inside more than we did tonight," Ames said. The junior Warriors' five goals in the game was an impressive show of offensive power, but Ames and his defense have also set a goal which will much tougher to accomplish.

"We'd like to go through the season without being scored on. I'm enough of a pragmatist to know that the goal is not realistic, but it gives us something to shoot for."

Ames praised his team's defense and the offensive performances of DeToussie, Scrum, Adamitis and Gray. Ames and the Warrior juniors will meet Alton-Marquette today at 5 p.m. at home.

GRANITE CITY — High school soccer returned to Granite City Friday night in a big way.

Last year's Granite City High School South state championship team will never be forgotten, but a new Warrior soccer team — the Granite City High School Warriors — now rule the Gounille.

The 1983 Warrior soccer team is the first Granite City High School team to debut in 11 years, and oh, what a debut it was.

Friday, against Gateway East Conference rival Edwardsville, the Warrior varsity and junior varsity soccer teams collectively scored eight unanswered goals against the Tigers. Coach Gene Baker's squad zipped past Edwardsville 3-0 in the senior matchup, while Dave Ames' jayvee squad set the Tigers down 5-0 (see related story).

In the varsity matchup, both Granite City and Edwardsville seemed tentative, it's early in the season for both teams.

For the Warriors, it was their first game, and they looked like it. Initially, their execution was off, they had problems settling the ball and they over ran the ball. They were over anxious, over aggressive.

The Warriors have been training the last two weeks in near 100 degree heat. So, running in 92 degree heat Friday was too easy.

"I think at first we were a little too aggressive," Coach Baker said. "I think we might be conditioned a little too well," Baker said of his team.

"We weren't that stable tonight," Baker said. "We need to play more relaxed."

Throughout the first 20 minutes of Friday's contest, Baker instructed his team to slow the pace of the game:

"We played as hard, as long, with as much effort as we were capable of tonight. They were quicker, better skilled and had more poise than we did."

— Fran Dwyer
Tiger soccer coach

"Settle the ball and then move."

It wasn't until the second quarter, after the Warriors began to wear and the pace of the game began to slow, that things began to click.

At approximately the 34:30 minute mark, senior center halfback Matt Sheridan penetrated Edwardsville's defense to attempt a one-on-one shot against Tiger goalie stand-in Randy Roberts.

Roberts, attempting to foil the attack, tripped Sheridan. Sheridan's ensuing penalty shot pierced the plane of the goal for the first score.

The goal was just what the Warriors needed to open the floodgates.

A steady, consistent Warrior attack prevailed again in the third quarter. At 54:02, Mike Sikora blasted a shot past Edwardsville defenders for the Warriors second goal.

Granite City managed the hat trick in the fourth quarter, at 64:26, when junior Scott Grote legged a shot past Roberts for the clincher. Roberts, normally a sweeper back, was standing in for Tiger goalkeeper P. J. Riley, who jammed his wrist in early in the first quarter.

Once synchronized, the Warrior attack was unstoppable.

By the end of the contest, Granite City outshot the Tigers 22 to four. Fouls were nearly even with Granite City committing 14 and Edwardsville 13.

Granite City goalkeepers managed three saves while Edwardsville's keeping corps batted down 11 saves.

The most lopsided statistic — and one which usually indicates ball control — are corner kicks. The Warrior managed 11 corners, while the Tigers were unable to manage even a single put in from the corner.

Edwardsville's first-year Coach Fran Dwyer was humbled after the game. "A tough game?" Dwyer began.

"That's a fair statement. We played as hard, as long, with as much effort as we were capable of tonight. They were quicker, better skilled and had more poise than we did. We lost," Dwyer concluded.

The Warriors continue action this evening as they host the Alton-Marquette Explorers at 5 p.m. The game, a rematch of last year's SIU-Edwardsville sectional finale, is scheduled to begin at 5 p.m.

NOTES: The Warrior debut Friday night was without Nathan Crane, Crane, who has been ailing lately with back pains, is expected to play against Marquette this evening.

National Hunting and Fishing Day is Sept. 24

The importance of conserving America's natural and wildlife resources will be the focus of this year's National Hunting and Fishing Day (NHFD) scheduled for celebration on Sept. 24. This program was initiated 12 years ago by the National Shooting Sports Foundation.

Each year, a day is designated to introduce the non-hunting and non-fishing public to the benefits of these sports as conservation tools. This year's theme, "A Day for a Lifetime" reflects this objective.

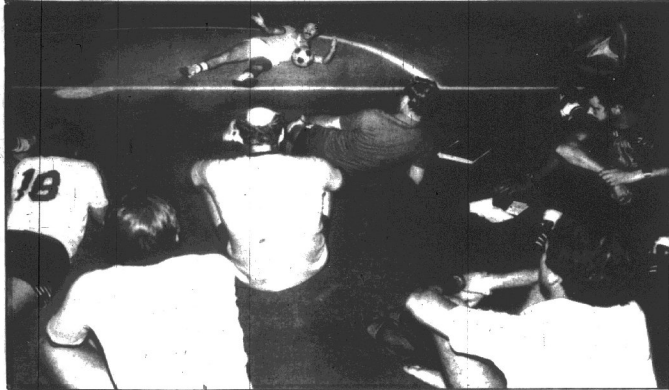

More than 40 of the country's leading conservation organizations will sponsor some 2,500 activities nationwide. Nearly 10 percent of these activities will be sponsored by the National Rifle Association's state and local club affiliates.

There are currently more than 20 million hunters in the United States. NHF Day activities provide an opportunity for these experienced hunters to provide educational exposure in the shooting sports for both youngsters and adults alike. Nearly 14 million individuals are anticipated to participate in a local NHF Day activity.

For further information on an NRA NHF Day activity locally, persons may contact the local NRA affiliated club. For additional information on planning a local NRA NHF Day in your area, contact NRA's Hunter Services Division at (202) 828-6249 or NRA's Field Services Division at (202) 828-6120.

Sports Briefs

Trittschuh starts for Cougars

Steve Trittschuh, the former Granite City North soccer standout now with the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, started in Sunday's soccer game against Illinois State University in Normal.

Steve Weller, sports information director at SIUE, said afterwards that Trittschuh's starting role, he believes, is the first for a Metro-East athlete at SIUE. Weller continued by saying that other Illinois athletes, most of whom have come from Chicago, have started at SIUE, but Trittschuh's status is the first for this area.

Bob Guelker, SIUE coach, has most frequently in the past, recruited Missouri athletes. Trittschuh was not the only Illinois athlete to see action Sunday. John Stone, the

The Cougars next game is this Saturday, Sept. 10, as they take on the national champions, Indiana University at Bloomington. The Cougars debut at home on Sept. 25, at North Texas State University. Game time is 3 p.m.

Stadium Run set for Oct. 1

More than 3,500 runners are scheduled to compete in the fifth annual Stadium Run at 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 1.

The event is a 10,000-meter (6.2-mile) handicapped race with all runners finishing on the playing surface at Busch Stadium prior to the St. Louis Cardinals - Chicago Cubs baseball game.

The run starts outside of Busch Stadium, with the course winding through the streets of St. Louis. The race is being sponsored by Budweiser Light beer, Busch Stadium, the St. Louis Cardinals and the St. Louis Track Club.

Entry blanks can be obtained at most sporting goods stores in the St. Louis area or by writing race director Tom Eckelman, P.O. Box 2556, University City, Mo. 63130. Additional information is available by calling 314/727-SLTC or 314/727-5312.

Y swimmers begin season

The Tri-City Area YMCA Swim Team Parents Club announces the beginning of the 1983-1984 season.

The swim team is open for boys and girls ages 5 through 18.

Karen Smith will be coaching again this year.

This is her third year as coach for the team. Smith is a 1981 graduate of Eastern Illinois University and holds a master's degree in physical education.

Smith previously swam for Bi-County YMCA for 10 years, where she was swimmer-of-the-year in 1976. She also holds title of swimmer of the year at Eastern for 1977, 1978 and 1979.

Anyone interested in joining the team may contact Karen Smith at 831-1195 or Richard Oliver at 877-2741 for further information on practice times and fees.

SFF begins instructional, co-ed clinics

Soccer for Fun in Granite City will conduct an instructional clinic for boys and girls ages 5 to 7 years. The clinic will stress fundamentals for beginners.

The clinic will be held on Monday evenings 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., starting Sept. 12 and running for six weeks. The fee will be $1.50 per night.

Also Soccer for Fun announces that on Tuesday evenings it will hold a co-ed instructional league for church groups. Any interested group or individual for the child's clinic should call 797-0619 for further information.

Dove hunting at Horseshoe

Horseshoe Lake and the Illinois Department of Conservation is sponsoring a Dove-hunting program at the lake during September.

Dove hunting, which began on Sept. 1 and will run through Sept. 30, will be permitted each day at the lake. Fifty hunter each day will be permitted.

Guidelines for hunting include daily registration, draws and hunting by the stake system.

Persons may register daily from 9-11 a.m. Stake drawings start at 11 a.m. and hunting will begin at noon. For further information, persons may call the Horseshoe Lake Park Office at 931-0270.

Deher: A premier cage coach

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

I doubt that there is anyone in southwestern Illinois who hasn't seen or heard about Louis (Pick) Deher, colorful and longtime basketball coach at the Senior High School in East St. Louis and now retired.

Next to Collinsville's legendary Vergil Fletcher, the flamboyant Deher was the area's "second best" prep cage coach. Often Old Pick's antics on the bench were more interesting than the basketball game itself.

Friends and fans alike, found him and his tactics on the bench during a game utterly fascinating with the crowd almost equally divided between those cheering and jeering at him. With all that, he was an outstanding and winning coach. The only coach in the area whose record against him was overwhelmingly against him was in the Flyers' and Kahoks' series over and down through the years.

About three weeks ago over the wire services came the sad news of the death of Doug Mills, the varsity basketball coach at the University of Illinois when and where Pick Deher played and made All-American in the late 1930's.

Mills it was who put together the famed Illini "Whiz Kids" anchored and paced by Granite City's own Andy Phillip before and after World War II. A native of Elgin, Ill., where he was a prep cage star and later coached, Mills went to Urbana and played for the Illini.

He returned to the University of Illinois as head coach at the old and tiny Huff Gym in 1934-35 school year.

A sophomore on that first Illini hardwood squad was none other than the towering (for them) Pick Deher from Lincoln, Ill. He towered six-foot, seven inches tall and weighed in at a solid 240 pounds.

It wasn't until nearly two years after, during the 1937-38 and 1938 and 1939 school years and seasons, that Deher reached his peak and gained national attention as the Illini invaded New York's Madison Square Garden to knock off all competition thrown at them. He had dropped out of school in the 1936-37 season.

A all-Big Ten Conference selection three years, it was Deher and Coach Mills' strategy which led the rules makers to come up with the three second rule in the lanes.

Mills decided in Deher's sophomore year to station Deher right in front of the basket and "get the ball into the towering Pick who, with the help of his overpowering bulk, was able to turn and pour the ball into the basket."

In fact, Pick Deher may have been the first basketball player to ever "stuff" the ball. As we talked last week about the passing of Coach Mills: "You know, Barney, they still had the center jump after every basket when I finished playing in college."

Deher recalled his frustration over the years in his teams' play against Fletcher's Kahoks. In fact, I was amazed when he confessed that his teams had gone 13 games against Collinsville without beating them. However, he roared with laughter, when he revealed that his Flyers had finally beaten the Kahoks ... and on the Collinsville floor at that ... in double overtime in 1960.

"It was the only time in all the games I've coached there that the Kahoks' fans were so completely stumped by seeing their beloved Kahoks beaten that they were deathly silent at game's end."

He added: "The silence came about because, I don't believe that the Collinsville fans understood the rules on overtime that season. You see, it was this way: the first overtime was for two minutes, the second was sudden death with the team scoring two points in a row being declared the winner."

Well, Don Brooks, the best basketball player ever to play at East St. Louis for me, was fouled just seconds after the second overtime, got underway. Don, who went on to play football and basketball at Purdue U., stepped to the line and, with the Kahoks fans screaming bloody loud, calmly and coolly dropped in both shots to win the game.

The capacity crowd made no motion to leave the gym.

Finally, the Public address announcer said: "That's all folks, East St. Louis is the winner."

15,000 credit hours forecast

A total of 15,000 credit hours for the first fall semester of the Granite City Center is being forecast in public talks by GCC officials. The GC Center of Belleville Area College District 522 has the equivalent of about 1,000 full-time students. The new term began Aug. 22.

Enrollment of all kinds has topped 1,940 persons, including 473 full-time.

For all three semesters of 1982-83, when daytime college courses were taught at the former Washington School and night classes were conducted at Granite City High School, BAC credit hours aggregated 10,000 here.

Federal financial aid programs include Guaranteed Student Loans and Plus Loans, Pell Grants and three campus-based programs, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, College Work-Study and National Direct Student Loans.

Counseling is provided, including counseling by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Veterans are assisted, and student employment is being arranged.

Dr. Frank Gornick is provost and Rosanna Herren is director of student services. Educational specialists on the faculty include Donald Davinroy, Mrs. Teresa Johnson, Mrs. Judi Sparks and Patricia Stamps.

Larry Petri coaches soccer, Jim O'Dell wrestling, Larry Graham men's basketball and Keith McFarland women's basketball.

Mrs. Janet Nolan heads the child-sitting center.

Final examinations will be conducted Dec. 12-15. Holiday observances will include the Labor Day weekend, Sept. 3-4-5; Columbus Day, Monday, Oct. 10; Veterans Day, Friday, Nov. 11; and the Thanksgiving holiday, Nov. 24-27.

The bus schedule at Granite City Center includes runs at 7:45 a.m., 11:05 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Book store hours while classes are in session are 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Fridays.

An ice cream social for students was held on Aug. 25, and similar mid-day events are being arranged when feasible, on a Tuesday-Thursday schedule.

Movie showings at GCC will include The Verdict Sept. 14 and 15, Gandhi Oct. 6 and 7 and Sophie's Choice Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

A blood drive is set for the college center Oct. 12 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and Tumburians will present a full-scale folk concert at 8 p.m. Nov. 21 at GCC.

Team colors are navy blue and silver, and the Granite

City Center athletes are the Stars.

The 18-game soccer schedule will begin with a contest at Lewis & Clark College, Godfrey, at 3 p.m. Sept. 8. The Stars' first home game will be against Florissant Valley College at 3 p.m. Sept. 14.

Wrestling competition will start Nov. 11 and the basketball schedule Nov. 14.

Located in the former North High School at Maryville Road and Highway 203, GCC is situated near Interstate 570 and is expected to attract students from a wide area, including the Quad-Cities, Collinsville and Highland.

Pleads innocent, $4,000 bond set

Floyd L. Wallace, 38, of 612 Alton Ave., Madison, was charged with criminal trespass to a motor vehicle and misdemeanor theft following an incident last week which items and gasoline allegedly were taken from a truck. Additionally, he was booked for driving while his license was revoked.

In a court appearance, Wallace pleaded innocent to all charges and bond was set at $4,000 cash. He was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

A Waynesville, Mo., truck driver, who was in his vehicle at the Smithway parking lot in the 1500 block of State Street, called police at 1:30 a.m. Monday when an auto turned into a parking area at Grand and State without headlights and a man walked towards the Stamps Sewer & Pipe Cleaning firm at 1501 Grand Ave.

Officers found a vehicle near the scene and found the it belonged to Wallace, but they were unable to locate the owner, reports said. About 2:50 a.m., Wallace allegedly returned in a van with another man and when questioned told police his vehicle had broken down and he'd gone to get help.

After officers left the scene a second time, the man went up to a red truck near the Stamps building and picked up some items, placing them in the car, it was alleged.

The vehicle was hailed by Madison Officer William Weidner on 14th Street and Wallace was taken into custody. A five-gallon can full of gasoline, a green hose and a yellow box with emergency triangle safety devices inside were allegedly found in the vehicle.

HORN TAKEN, LOCATED
Solving a theft and also property damage, Granite City police last week apprehended four young boys who had just removed an air horn from the 14-foot boat of Walter Worthen; the boat was in the alley behind his home at 2441 Edison Ave. Parents of the youngsters were notified of the incident.

AUTO STOLEN
Mitchell Gargac, 2347 Rock Road, reported his tan over red 1976 Buick was stolen from the parking area at Charlie's Restaurant, 3120 Nameoki Road, last week. He had left the engine running due to problems with the vehicle, he said.

POSTS BOND
Terry W. Haggard, 26, of 1791 Courtenay Blvd., reported to Granite City police headquarters last week in response to a warrant alleging failure to pay on a charge of battery. He was released after posting a $35.

Loaded pistol taken from suspect today

Granite City police found a loaded .22-caliber automatic pistol when searching a suspect early Thursday at the rear of the police station, 2330 Madison Ave.

The pistol, with one round in the chamber, was confiscated along with a loose bullet, all found in clothing.

Officers alleged the individual is Kevin D. Catthers, 21, of 2124 Delmar Ave., who was sentenced to 3½ years in prison in 1980 for burglary and arson. He was charged with trespassing, no firearm owner card and unlawful use of a gun, plus battery in an incident occurring at 11:15 p.m. Monday, Aug. 29.

A boy, 16, also arrested behind the police station Thursday, was charged with trespassing and curfew violation.

President
GRANITE CITY TRUST

Q: I have often wondered if the many different financial institutions which lend money have a fixed criteria to judge whether a loan is approved or disapproved?

A: When evaluating a loan application, most lenders look closely at five different areas. First of all, financial position is important, along with a ratio of debts to net worth and current assets to liabilities. An ability to repay and past repayment history is equally important. Depending upon the type and size of the loan application, a financial institution may look at collateral as a method to guarantee the protection of the money loaned. The purpose of the loan is also an important factor to be weighed. The lender will want to know whether the money will be used productively or for a luxury item. The lender will also want to know what risks are involved. Finally, the borrower's character is a very important factor. When applying for a loan, being candid and open are the best paths to follow.

HOLLYWOOD HEADLINERS

By Nancy Anderson

HOLLYWOOD — Because he makes so much money doing concerts, Hoyt Axton can scarcely afford to work in the new weekly NBC-TV series "Roustabouts."

However, his salary was adjusted and he's now a contented member of the cast.

Through the show, Hoyt and Chad Everett, who plays Wyatt Earp III in the comedy drama, have become best of friends.

Though some parents name babies for popular figures in television shows, novels and movies, John Forsythe of "Dynasty" says he's not aware if the series has brought on a rash of babies named either "Blake" or "Alexis."

"But," he says, "I believe a lot of babies lately have been named 'Fallon.'"

"Fallon" is the name of his "Dynasty" daughter.

Martin Manulis, who's making "Chiefs" for CBS-TV, says he thought that finding old cars to use in the period piece would be difficult, but he found them aplenty.

However, it was difficult to find old cars that didn't look like brand-new models fresh from the showroom floor.

The cars used in the mini-series belong to collectors who keep their automobiles in mint condition, unlike those one sees on the average city street.

TELLING ALL: Herve Villechaise may be tiny (3-foot-11), but he's got so many tall tales to tell about his life on stage, screen and TV that he doesn't think he can cram it all into one book.

That's right, 40-year-old Herve — who recently left his TV series "Fantasy Island" in a salary dispute — is writing his autobiography. His agent says the pint-sized actor "wanted to do it in two volumes. I told him one was enough."

You never know. Herve's got a lot of ground to cover. He's an accomplished painter and pianist, has even appeared in opera ("Pagliacci" and "Rigoletto" for the New York City Opera) and starred opposite Roger Moore in "The Man with the Golden Gun."

And, of course, he's got all that behind-the-palmtree stuff from "Fantasy Island" to put in print.

LANA, THE LEGEND: Miss Lana Turner (as she loves to be called) has concluded a big deal with Warner Bros. Inc. to make a three-hour TV movie of her life and loves, over which she will be granted total artistic control.

Although Morgan Fairchild and Cheryl Ladd have both been mentioned to play the part, we hear Miss Lana Turner prefers herself to be portrayed by an unknown. Production is scheduled for late fall for airing on your telly early next spring.

TV TEASERS

- Who starred in the title role of CBS' "Spider-Man?"
- When you think of ABC's "Roots," what author/researcher comes to mind?
- Name the host of "Animals, Animals, Animals." Clue: Capt. Miller.

ANSWERS:
1. Nicholas Hammond
2. Alex Haley
3. Hal Linden

Lots of new roles for Tawny

By Nancy Anderson

HOLLYWOOD — It's a wonder the John Schneiders found time to get acquainted, much less married. Each is so very busy.

And right now Tawny Schneider, John's wife since July, is busier than ever as host of her first network television show.

It's ABC's "Eye on Hollywood," set so far for five airings but possibly to continue if it's a hit.

With a magazine format, it is, according to Tawny, "almost like a social studies course. It's a primer on the Southern California lifestyle."

The network show derives from a similar offering Tawny hosted for a Los Angeles station, KABC-TV, where she's worked as a member of the news department since 1977.

She still has a plum assignment there as anchor of the 11 p.m. news which means that after a full day working on "Eye on Hollywood" she still can't go home to her husband.

John, meanwhile, is working very long hours on "The Dukes of Hazzard" and other projects beginning each morning at roughly 5 a.m.

"I really don't know how we found time to fall in love," says Tawny, "but we certainly did."

John says he doesn't mind his long hours of work now that he has someone who loves him.

"Knowing that somebody cares about him makes his schedule all right."

If "Eye on Hollywood" continues as a prime-time series, Mrs. Schneider will have to make some career decisions.

She knows that anchoring a news show is not only a prestigious job, it's a safe one.

"The news isn't canceled," she notes. "You're not going to get fired."

But the regular, daytime hours she enjoys as host of "Eye on Hollywood" allow her more precious time with her bridegroom.

So... Anchoring the 11 p.m. news is great," Tawny emphasizes. "It's exciting to be a woman in the news field right now."

"But anchoring the 11 o'clock news isn't so great on my marriage."

Though she was a Miss America, Mrs. Schneider is as brainy as she is beautiful, which she honors she's been accorded attorney.

Her news documentary, "In Search of the Two-Minute Thrill," was nominated for an Emmy.

But, when it comes to her priorities, professional status runs a very poor second to her place in John Schneider's life, Tawny will tell you.

"He IS my life," she says. Tawny would like to have children right away which would affect her career plans, but John isn't in a hurry, she says.

She's an only child whose parents never liked anyone she dated seriously until Schneider came along. They met him last Christmas and were charmed.

Marriage to an actor is complicated by problems peculiar to his profession, especially if he's groupie-bait. But Tawny argues, "John isn't at all like an actor."

"You could talk with him for hours and never know that he is one."

"He's not arrogant or self-centered. He's genuine and warm and honest."

"Acting can make home life difficult," says Mrs. Schneider. "But it's up to me to make ours work."

From 'Frank Buck' to 'Scarecrow'

By Nancy Anderson

HOLLYWOOD — The pilot for "Scarecrow and Mrs. King" is less than an exercise in pure reason. But, like its title, it's kinda cute.

The new series on the CBS fall schedule stars a pair of pretty people, Kate Jackson and Bruce Boxleitner.

Since Kate is anything but a fright for crows, she is Mrs. King, a comely housewife who accidentally falls into spying while, possibly, falling for a spy. Boxleitner is a secret agent of some sort whose code name is — you got it! — scarecrow.

The pilot has holes in the plot so big you could heave your TV set through any one of them. But what the heck?

As Kate says, the purpose of television should be to entertain, and her antics with Bruce are diverting. "When I read the script," she says blithely, "I knew that this is what television is all about."

Mrs. King will never carry a gun. She will improvise solutions to her problems with evildoers, drawing upon her common sense and experience as homemaker and mother. Scarecrow, on the other hand, is a way-out guy, not quite so gimmicky as 007 but willing to wear a disguise.

Boxleitner had bad luck last season playing Frank Buck in "Bring 'Em Back Alive." The public didn't care for the series nor, presumably, for the hero he played.

A year ago his manager Jay Bernstein predicted that Bruce was about to rocket to fields of glory.

but the hope proved somewhat futile. However, Boxleitner says he doesn't feel let down.

"My career is going very well," he says, noting that he'll soon be seen in a new "Gambler" TV movie with Kenny Rogers and Linda Evans.

"I have no complaints at all."

Eugenie Ross-Leming, co-producer of "Scarecrow and Mrs. King," speaks warmly of Bruce as actor and star.

"Hype is scary," she says, "because you then have to live up to expectations. ... But if you do have some sort of body of work to demonstrate that you are versatile and talented, most people — even critical people — look at the work and through the hype."

"My tendency is to say, 'Prove it to me,' and Bruce has done such a remarkable job of being versatile. ... He's proved to us what he can do."

"The words we wrote for this show were just words, but he made them 100 times better."

"It's good as a writer to be able to stand back and say, 'I know my words are going to have a lot more life, because the people who are saying them are going to make them rich.'"

"I don't think we've backed down at all so far as my career is concerned from what Jay was saying," says Bruce. "Sure it's taken some turns, but this business is unpredictable."

While she admits that "Scarecrow and Mrs. King" isn't always credible, Kate points out that "strange things have happened in history."

And she finds her show more credible than the Bond movies.

"This is not James Bond," she says. "You know James Bond never got a hair out of place or a wrinkle on his suit."

"The people in our show make mistakes; though they try not to."

The series is allowed more leeway to be mad, because it is about international intrigue, Kate argues.

"I sort of sense — and I hope I'm not kidding myself — that there are so many almost lunatic aspects to international politics and intelligence gathering and the way decisions are made almost by fluke and I suppose I think there is some license allowed to breaking the rules of logic."

"But I think the spirit of the show is fairly sensible."
